Bobby Davis & Carolyn Steninger

were the lucky winners. Congratulations are in order for the both of them. Remember, the certificates are good through the 2010 show season.

Meeting was adjourned at 7:00pm.

The Annual Awards Banquet was a smashing success. Thank you to everyone who helped out. Jacey Molyneux and Carolyn Steninger along with the help of Bobby Davis put together an awesome celebration. Everyone needs to give them a BIG THANK YOU. The dinner was great, the awards were great and the auction was a blast. Thanks to Lee McComb our auctioneer, we raised a lot of money for the club. A big thank you needs to go out to all of the people who donated items for the raffle, auction and door prizes. We wouldn't have been able to raise the money without the items donated.

Tips to taking care of your horse during the winter season!

Tip #1 (more tips to come in future newsletters)

DIET:

It is a common misconception that horses need less feed in the winter because they are less active. The truth of the matter is that a horse's metabolic needs for routine maintenance in the winter are greater than that in the summer because more energy is needed for thermoregulation (maintaining body temperature). In addition, the winter temperatures and shorter daylight hours wreak havoc on our pastures, which are now dried, yellow and buried under a layer of snow. Even if your horse can access the grass to graze, he will gain no nutritional value from it. If you are not sure if your horse's nutrition is adequate, a consult with an equine professional such as your local veterinarian or nutritional specialist is in order. Another source of information that can be regularly utilized is the feed supply industry itself. The leading feed manufacturers all offer web sites, toll-free phone numbers and e-mail addresses for your inquiries and convenience.

The Rainbow Bridge

Submitted by: Pat

There is a bridge connecting Heaven and Earth. It is called the Rainbow Bridge because of its many colors. Just this side of the Rainbow Bridge, there is a land of meadows, hills and valleys with lush green grass.

When a beloved pet dies, the pet goes to this place. There is always food and water and warm spring weather. The old and frail animals are young again. Those who are maimed are made whole again. They play all day with each other.

There is only one thing missing: They are not with their special person who loved them on Earth. So, each day they run and play until the day comes when one suddenly looks up!!! The nose twitches. The ears are up. The eyes are staring. And this one suddenly runs from the group.

You have been seen, and when you and your special friend meet, you take him or her in your arms and embrace. Your face is kissed again and again and again, and you look once more into the eyes of your trusting pet. Then you cross the Rainbow Bridge together, never again to be separated.

The Talking Mule

S. E. Schlosser

A farmer owned a mule which he used for work all week. But being a Church-going man, he let the mule rest on Sunday.

One Sunday, the farmer had to go to a funeral. So he sent his son to saddle the mule.

"Since when do I have to work on Sunday?" asked the mule.

The boy dropped the saddle and ran to the house.

"Paw, the mule talked!" he shouted.

"Can't you even saddle the mule?" asked the farmer.

"But Paw, the mule don't want to work on Sunday," the boy protested.

The farmer sent the boy to his room for talking crazy and went out to saddle the mule.

"Move over," he said to the mule.

"Where's my supper?" asked the mule.

The farmer dropped the saddle in the same spot as his boy and ran out of the barn, followed by the dog.

"I ain't never heard a mule talk before," he gasped.

"Me neither," said the dog.

The man bolted for the house and slammed the door.

"The mule talked!" he told his wife.

"What!" said his wife.

"And when I exclaimed: 'I ain't never heard a mule talk before', the dog said: 'Me neither'."

"That's crazy," said his wife.

"What's so crazy about that?" asked the cat. "Haven't you ever heard of a talking mule?"
